

THE GAZETTE.

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 14.

INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS.—If we analyze the increase of wealth, we find that the proportion of growth in the great manufacturing States of New York, Massachusetts, Ohio and Connecticut is nearly the same, or about 103 per cent. New York, the increase is more than double that of the former decade, being 103 per cent., against 46 per cent. in that period. Maine offers a greater increase of manufacturing wealth than the former States. The increase in Pennsylvania is 140 against 90 per cent., or about seven times that of the growth of population; in New Jersey 120 against 95 per cent., or not quite four times its growth of population; in Rhode Island 190 against 90 per cent., or not quite eight times its increase of population. In the Western States the growth has been still more enormous, Missouri, Illinois, Michigan and Indiana leading off. Missouri exhibits a gain in manufacturing products of $206,213,429 in 1870, against $41,781,731 in 1860, or an increase of about 400 per cent., against 70 per cent. in the former decade, being a gain of not quite eight times the growth of the white population. Illinois boasts a gain of 290 per cent.

Curiously enough, California has actually decreased, according to the census, in her value of manufactured products. The question arises, however, whether this extraordinary result is not to be ascribed solely to inaccuracies in the census. We have already indicated how a similar injustice was unintentionally done to Pennsylvania. We now observe, also, that the leading manufacturing cities are ranked as follows in their productivity: New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Lowell, Boston, Lawrence (Mass.), Chicago, Pittsburg (including Allegheny City), Providence, Cincinnati, Worcester (Mass.), Brooklyn, Baltimore, Jersey City, New Haven, San Francisco, Hartford, Manchester (N. H.), Louisville and Milwaukee.—Phila. Record.
